

Wet and Wild Winter Weekend

Saturday 13 February - Monday 15 February

Following on from the success of the Wet and Wild Summer Weekend at Seaton Marshes Local Nature Reserve we thought we would try a Wet and Wild Winter Weekend slightly further up the Axe. Yes, the weather could be awful, but the birds will be brilliant!

There will be a number of 'drop-in' type activities where you just turn up:

- Birds from the hide at Colyford Common
- Axe Estuary Ringing Group at Stafford Marsh
- Birds around 'Black Hole'
- Beasties of the estuary

There will be an experienced guide to help you identify the birds and free binoculars and telescopes will be available. We strongly recommend that you wear boots or wellies and warm clothing!

Drop-in activities will run between the following times:

Saturday 13 February 10 am - 4pm
Sunday 14 February 10 am-4pm
Monday 15 February 10 am-4pm

As there is no car parking in very close proximity to the sites we have arranged for Seaton Tramway to run trams on the hour at a reduced rate from Seaton to Black Hole Marsh where a temporary 'halt' will be created especially for the Winter Wet and Wild Weekend. Return trams will be leaving at approximately 10 minutes past each hour. Car parking for the trams is available in the Pay and Display car park adjacent to Seaton Tramway (follow brown tourist signs).

If you would prefer to park and walk there is limited parking at Colyford Memorial Hall on Saturday 13 and Monday 15 February only. NOT Sunday, please

Wet and Wild Winter Weekend Feature Event

Nature@Sundown The feature event of the weekend will be the chance to take the tram from Seaton along the edge of the Axe estuary free of charge as the light is closing in. The estuary is a magical place as darkness falls - all your senses will be heightened as you look and listen to the birds coming in to roost. A procession of trams, each with an experienced guide, will wend their way along the estuary, stopping at intervals to allow passengers to experience the dusk. Remember it is February, so wrap up warmly!

Nature@Sundown is organised by Ambios Ltd, a not-for-profit company. Nature@Sundown offers people the opportunity to explore Devon's wildlife and it is funded by the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills through their Transformation Fund.
